

STRENGTHS

Denys

- I can be responsible for coding or code review to create a flawlessly working and coherent pipeline
- One more thing that I can help with is structure and agile approach to the project work

Nikita

- I try to be a hard worker, I can solve any task quickly and efficiently.
- Very carefully examining the structure of the assignment and the entire unit

Artjom

- I approach deadlines responsibly, so I always complete tasks on time.
- I perform tasks carefully so that everything is done at its best.

WEAKNESS

Denys

- I sometimes can delay some tasks, but in general everything is delivered in time

Nikita

- I'm very lazy sometimes. It's hard for me to make myself do something. In previous blocks, this is the reason why I had delays in some tasks.
- Sometimes I may not be able to keep up with assignments, which can cause a delays.

Artjom

- When I have a lot of tasks in front of me, it is difficult for me to plan my time rationally in order to complete all tasks as productively as possible.

SWOT

OPPORTUNITIES

Denys

- I am excited to read new contemporary articles of how to approach NLP tasks that can definitely improve our work

Nikita

- In this block, I plan to complete the Calculus 1 - Full college math course - this will affect the writing of the code

Artjom

- I plan to use weights & biases (wand), MLflow, DVC to help manage experiments and track model versions, as well as using automated annotation tools – Prodigy, Label Studio, Doccano can simplify the process of marking up data.

Denys

- I am part time working and having a side project that might take some time during the week, but my top priority will be university project

Nikita

- I work in a hotel as a night receptionist, which can cause my sleep schedule to be disrupted sometimes
- I live in Tilburg. Sometimes there are problems with trains, which can sometimes make me late or not come to the DataLab

Artjom

- Due to the fact that I have a night job, it may be difficult to make a call schedule.
- I may need to leave for a week during the block due to family reasons.
